Hiring Manager

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am a final-year student of ICT applications development at CPUT, and I am writing in the hope of getting an IT internship at your company, which I have no doubt is the best for me.

The course taught me a lot about software development, database management, and system design. With practical tasks, such as creating an Online Voting System and the E-Campus Student Portal projects, I gained skills in Java, SQL, and UI/UX design. The software development projects I did during my studies allowed me to develop my problem-solving abilities, attention to detail, and ability to work well in group situations, all of which I would like to contribute to your company. My energy and passion are best shown when the surrounding environment is vibrant, resourceful, and open to innovation. In this regard, I hope to contribute my technology skills to your company and, at the same time, to learn from the experts in the field. I am in a dilemma applicable to the attachment of my CV. The inclusions should give you a further understanding of my background. Thanks again, and I am looking forward to your positive feedback.

Yours sincerely,
Phindile Lisa Ngozi
